Oil Operations Getting Under Way For A Busy Season

Drills Pounding Down at Several Wells

After one of the coldest winters in eastern Alberta for several years, crews are again busy at several of the wells in the Irma-Wainwright field. At the Maple Leaf well, one mile west of the famous Fabyan well a test is being made to determine the amount of gasoline contained in the large volume of gas available at their No. one well. This well was completed to a depth of 1975 feet early last fall when a gas flow estimated at from seven to ten million feet was struck. Preparations had been made to continue drilling in this well but since the Fabyan well broke loose covering the hillside with oil and the phenomenal results have been reported from the wet gas from the Royalite well in the Turner Valley, the directors have decided to make a thorough test of the gasoline content. Mr. Williams the managing director appears quite confident that the gas contains sufficient gasoline to warrant the erection of an absorption plant and that no further drilling will be necessary to make number one well a big producer. A derrick has been erected and machinery assembled ready to start drilling on number two well, about 500 yards north of number one.

Western Consolidated Making Good Progress,

At the Western Consolidated location on Section 20-45-6-4, Dave Credelle is reported to be making good progress. Two crews are working night and day with a standard rig, while no reports are given out as to the depth the drill has reached it is generally understood that Dave will be the first driller to attain any results in this part of hte field this season.

B. P. Getting Ready to Drill Fifth Well

The British Petroleums have completed the erection of a new derrick adjoining No. three well in which several promising oil sands were encountered. On account of the small size of the hole in Number three the company claim it was not practical to bring this well in. The removal of the machinery from Number five location on Section 30-45-6-4, to the Turner Valley field has had a tendency to cause doubts as to the actual results obtained at Numbers two and four wells adjoining this location. Every one visiting this location knows oil has been found in these two wells, but after several months waiting we are still in doubt as to the possible production from either of them. If the tests that are being made at these wells do not soon prove what they can produce and one of the other wells being drilled in other parts of the field should prove productive the interest will be further removed from this location. One thing that should not be overlooked is that the British Petroleums have proved that the Irma-Wainwright area is underlaid with several important oil bearing sands and encouraged by the good showings in their wells, some of the other companies drilling will no doubt soon prove othetr parts of the field.

Interior Oil Preparing to Drill

Mr. Bearesford, former field manager for the Maple Leaf Co. is busy getting things in shape so as to resume drilling at the well west of Wainwright. This well was commenced last season by the Wainwright Oil Producers, who sold out to the Interior Oil Co. last winter.

Irma Oil Development Co. Drilling

The Irma Oil Development Co. have resumed drilling at their well at Irma. This well has been under way for some time but owing to drilling trouble last summer it was found necessary to move the rig and start a new hole. Most of the financing has been done locally and the directors have been fortunate in keeping the company in

SUUCCESSFUL OPERATION AT VERY LOW RATES OF LOCAL PHONE CO.

The history of the Lealholme Telephone Company is full of interest to our readers. On February 1st 1918 an organization meeting was held at which it was decided to organize the present company. In order to do this it was necessary to acquire the interests of the Chauvin and Battle River Company, and each subscriber took up a thirty dollar share for this purpose, and purchase a phone at an average cost of twenty-five dollars. Since that time the company has been in continuous and successful action. It has made arrangements with the Alberta Government Telephones whereby it has had the use of the Chauvin central as an exchange, with long distance through connections at a cost of three dollars being provided from the annual levy imposed upon shareholders for maintenance and operation.

The directors of the company have been very economical in the management of the company's affairs; with the result that since the inception of the present company the total cost to the subscribers (including the cost of their share and their phone) has only been $16.00 per year. The average annual levy during these eight years has been $7.25.

The details of these very low figures are as follows:

|--------------------------------|-------|-------|
| Original Share | | 30.00 |
| Average labour of construction | .. | 15.00 |
| Phone & Instalment | .. | 25.00 |
| Levy 1918 | | 11.00 |
| " 1919 | | 4.00 |
| " 1920 | | 3.00 |
| " 1921 | | 12.00 |
| " 1922 | | 10.00 |
| " 1923 | | 10.00 |
| " 1924 | | 8.00 |

A survey of these figures indicate that the strictest economy has been practised by the officials, and the levy rate has fallen quite as rapidly, if not more so, than the market prices of electrical commodities.

During the whole period the lines have been efficiently maintained by C. W. Ryall, whose experience in these matters has been one of the chief factors in keeping down maintenance costs.

In giving your boy or girl a present of a number 2 Brownie camera at $2.85, you are awakening in your child an interest in nature study at a very low expense. It s a proven fact that a child who is a lover of nature grows to an adult who has no time for mischief or idleness, in other wors the camera and Kodak has earned a place in the list of educators.

POOLS ASK SUPPORT OF BUSINESS ORGANIZATIONS IN THE PROVINCE

Support of the boards of trade and the various service clubs in the cities and towns, and the agricultural societies in the drive to secure membership for the new Alberta provincial dairy, livestock and poultry pools, is being asked by the joint organization, of which A. B. Claypool, M.L.A., is chairman. Letters were dispatched to all of these organizations during the past week, soliciting whatever support and assistance their members might be able to give in aiding the pools to reach their objective when the concentrated drive takes place during the three weeks from June 8th to 28th. It is felt that the business organizations will gladly support the pool movement as one essential in making Alberta a more attractive place for incoming settlers, as well as improving the conditions of those already on the land.

An effort is being made to secure the permission of the bank superintendents in the province to have the various branch banks throughout the province used as depots where copies of contracts can be secured by farmers or by canvassers during the drive.

The directors of the Wheat pool, the members of the provincial legislature, the directors of the U.F.A., and the U.F.W.A. are all to be asked to assist in the drive for membership. The organization committee is relying upon the U.F.A. and U.F.W.A. locals to prosecute the work of canvassing the various districts.

A joint organization committee for the pools was formed at a meeting of the directors of the three pools recently held in Edmonton. The committee consists of the secretaries of the three pools and the three chairmen as ex-officio members. The chairman of the joint pool is A. B. Claypool, the vice-chairman is Mrs. P. E. Wyman, and the secretary is R. A. Van Sike. The members of the committee will make their headquarters in Edmonton during the latter part of May and during the period of the drive for members.

One of the canvassers in the Grande Prairie district in two days work last week signed up about 80 per cent of the farmers in his territory for the livestock pool.

An indication of the extent to which the principle of co-operative marketing is being incorporated in legal enactments is shown in the fact that 37 states in the union now have co-operative

SWEET CLOVER WILL PRODUCE GOOD PASTURE IN CHAUVIN DISTRICT

That the white blossomed sweet clover will produce splendid pasture n this district has been thoroughly proven on his farm a few miles north of Chauvin.

In the spring of 1923 he seeded 44 acres with sweet clover. He used wheat as a nurse crop, and obtained a good crop of wheat that fall. The clover did not grow very strong until after the wheat had been cut when it began a rapid and vigorous growth. So strong was this growth that Murray was able to use it for grazing pasture that fall.

Next spring, 1924, the clover was found to have survived the winter, and during the season John Murray pastured 50 head of cattle on the field. There was food for twice that number, and though a number of horses were also turned in the clover flowered freely and produced mature seed. This should have been haring to his accident, and the early close of fall work, Mr. Murray was unable to take care of the harvest.

The cattle fed upon this sweet clover were the best finished beasts that Mr. Murray has been able to place upon the market, and he has already a seventeen year reputation for producing good beef cattle in this district. His horses got so fat upon this clover that he entertained fears on their behalf. He recommends the white blossomed clover in preference to the yellow.

So convinced is Mr. Murray as to the suitability of sweet clover for this district that he is, this year, seeding down sixty acres to this crop.

JACK PINES PROSPER IN THIS DISTRICT

Those who have any doubt whether or not they can grow take a trip to the Manitou Lake Forest Reserve and take a look at the four acre plot of Jack Pine trees that have been raised by Jack Suffern guardian of the reserve.

Thsee young trees are now standing nearly six fot high, and are vigorous and well proportioned. They have reached a stage of growth when they are able to protect themselves and will in future need practicaly no further cultivation.

Jack Suffern's success in this regard removes all reason for supposing that the same cannot done right in this district, for the soil on which these trees stand is of very light nature.

He has also a large plot of Spruce but has not met with the same degree of success with these though they are coming aong fairly well.

The Good Roads Department of Manitoba expects to complete the Trans-Canada Highway through that province by October the first. This will complete the road from Brandon west to the Saskatchewan boundary.

The city of Halifax, N.B., is planning to re-establish its Provincial Exhibition this coming fall according to Mayor Murphy. The fair has only been held once or twice since the war prior to which it was an annual event.

The Canadian Trade Commissioner at Liverpool, England, is taking steps to interest Canadian business men in the export of crushed oyster shells to Great Britain. The United States exports 20,000 tons of crushed shells annually to the British Isles.

The official opening of Crystal Garden, Victoria's latest and finest Amusement Park will take place on June 26th. Celebrations, including a ball, processions, and sports, will mark the occasion and are scheduled to continue until July 1st.

Navigation on the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence is now open and has provided employment for hundreds of men from Montreal, Toronto and other cities who have been idle during the winter. Shipping circles are optimistic concerning the season just commenced.

It is announced that the Banff, Alberta, Pow-Wow and Indians Day celebration which takes place annually, will be held this year, July 23 and 24 in the Yoho Valley. On these days the Stoney tribe of Indians in full regalia, hold their Pow-Wow and compete in contests of every kind.

There are approximately 2,200,000 persons attending school in this country. Of this number, 1,600 are at institutions for the blind and mute; 81,000 at vocational schools or classes; 14,000 at Indian schools; and the remainder attend colleges, universities, subsidized and private schools and institutions for training teachers.

With a view to arranging a new trade and transportation agreement between Canada and the British West Indies a conference is to be held at Ottawa in June which will be attended by representatives of the Governments of Canada, Bermuda, Leeward and Windward Islands, Barbadoes, Trinidad, British Guiana, Jamaica and British Honduras.

The gold mines of northern Ontario are said to have yielded a higher income during the first quarter of 1925 than in any similar period in their history. Estimates place the income of mining companies in the Porcupine district at nearly six million dollars and in the Kirkland District at one and a quarter millions.

John Hartney, Canadian Pacific Railway engineer, who has recently completed his 42nd year in the company's service, was the guest of honor at a banquet given by the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers on St. George's Day at Smiths Falls, Ont. Mr. Hartney, is President Beatty's special engineer and was presented with a gold cane.

In an effort to individualize the name of Saint John, N.B., the City Corporation, Board of Trade, and other organizations are in future to spell its name out in full. This port has grown rapidly in importance in recent years and in addition to being the winter headquarters of the fleet of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is also a port of call for numerous lines operating between Canada and Europe, as well as the centre of a large fishing industry.

J. A. McCOLL
Special representative of the Vancouver Harbour Commissioners in Alberta and Saskatchewan

Bringing home to grain growers and shippers the advantages of the Western grain route and the grain-handling facilities at the Port of Vancouver, Mr. McColl is visiting every grain centre in Alberta and Western Saskatchewan this summer, addressing Boards of Trade, U. F. A. locals, Farmers' Institutes, and personally calling upon grain shippers to make them acquainted with what Vancouver has to offer them as a shipping centre.

Having been an Alberta farmer for 18 years, and being born and raised on an Ontario farm, Mr. McColl, who formerly represented Acadia in the Alberta legislature, has a practical knowledge of the grain situation that is proving invaluable on his present mission. The experience gained on the land has been amplified by personal inspection of the Vancouver facilities and the advantages of the Western route.

It was Mr. McColl, at the time member for Acadia, who was responsible for the Federal government taking action to give the Board of Railway Commissioners power to transfer engines and cars from one railroad to another in order to handle grain at congested points, his activities on that occasion saving many farmers from losing their entire crop.

Broadcasting of copyright songs in the United States is declared subject to copyright fees or royalties just as much as publication by other methods of performance. This decision, which has considerable bearing on the Canadian Copyright Bill now under discussion in Ottawa was reached as a result of a recent test case in the United States.

Approximately five millions dollars will be spent in maintaining and constructing new highways within the Province of Quebec during the present year. At present there are 2,586 miles of highway in the province stretching into all parts of Quebec and linking up with main roads in the U.S. and the sister provinces to the East and West.

According to a report prepared by the Merchants Exchange of Vancouver, forty-two regular steamship lines are now operating out of that harbor, the gross tonnage for last year being 14,473,518 which is over a million tons in excess of the 1923 figures. The Canadian Pacific Railway is now erecting a new pier there which will be one of the finest and largest on the continent.

The Campbell River Company of White Rock has purchased the entire holdings of the James Logging Company of Vancouver which include 35,000 acres of timber lands, containing over two billion feet of logs, a saw mill with a capacity of more than 50,000 feet of lumber a day, three large tugs and a complete logging outfit. A sum of more than five millions dollars is said to be involved.

Arrangements have been completed to ship 200 books by Canadian authors to be exhibited at Wembley this year. A special grant has been made by the Provincial Government of Quebec to provide artistic bindings for these books many of which will be by French-Canadian authors. That this is to be done is largely due to the initiative of the Arts, Science and Letters Society of Quebec City in co-operation with the provincial government.

Stoney Indians Prepare for Celebration

1. Stoney Mountain Indians gathered in the hotel yard at Banff for the distribution of the Pow-wow prizes.
2. An Indian encampment scene. Insert: The Duke of Connaught as a Tschantoga chief.

These are Tschantoga or Stoney Mountain Indians—"people of the woods". Time was when they were a blood-thirsty lot, with a partiality for white men's scalps and an unpleasant habit of slaying anybody they did not happen to approve of. But look at them now. Their war-like glory has departed and they realize that the white-man is not such a bad sort of chap after all. Big Chief Powder-face is as friendly as a Rotary president, and he and his six hundred braves come over every year to Banff, all decked out in their gala attire, and celebrate the burying of the hatchet by a two-day carnival and Pow-wow.

The occasion is called an "Indian Day and Pow-wow" and consists of a series of parades, sports and encampment scenes and events. It always takes place on the third Monday and Tuesday in July, falling this year on the 23rd and 24th.

The individual in the insert is not, and never was, blood-thirsty nor fond of scalps. It is the Duke of Connaught in his regalia as an Honorary Chief of the Stoney Mountain Tribe. The picture was taken on the occasion of His Excellency's visit to the Rockies when he was Governor-General of Canada during the war.

This year's Pow-wow and Indian

Day will be the thirty-third since its inauguration. After the field events, the members of the Tribe meet in the yard of the Banff Springs Hotel for the distribution of prizes. The big picture above depicts the scene which usually follows the prize distribution.

"HE WHO PAYS TOO LITTLE, OFTEN PAYS TOO MUCH"

What profiteth it a man to send 69c to a Winnipeg mail order house for a suit of Beevydees and then find that the legs are too small to get into them, when his home merchant will sell a full cut garment for $1.00.

Or buy a catalog suit for $16.00 and find that it had been cut with an axe, sewed by Omar the tent maker, with a fit like our first issue of army clothing.

Or to buy mail-order shoes and gamble on a fitting that may be satisfactory or a cause of corns or enlarged joints.

Paints, automobile tires, groceries—all with glowing descriptions of quality at savings—but you'll always find you can buy to the same or better advantage at home.

Mail-order houses have this great advantage: goods are sold without being seen. Of course, they may be returned and money refunded but in most cases the mail-order patrons do not want or take the trouble or returning goods.

As a matter of fact if Chauvin merchants would stock the cheaper grades of merchandise handled by the catalog houses they could not sell them because they, first, must shaw them.

WEAKENED ON THE WAY

The vicar considered himself a very good preacher, and he was always ready to hear people's opinions of his sermons.

Meeting an old parishioner in the village, he asked: "Well, Mr. Snooks, and how did you like my sermon yesterday?"

"Ye see, parson," was the reply, "I haven't a fair chance with them sermons off yours. I'm an old man now, and by the time I manage to get to the church all the front seats are taken and I have to sit at the back. And there's old Mrs. Smith an' Mrs. O'Callaghan's darters an' Bert Snow an' all the rest of 'em sittin' in front o' me wid their mouths open a-swallowing all the best parts of your sermon, an' what gets down to me is purty poor stuff, parson, purty poor stuff."

LUCKY FOR JOHNNIE

Teacher asked her class if they could compose a rhyme using the word "Nellie." Johnnie Jones, being called upon, arose much embarrassed: "There was a pretty little girl named Nellie, who fell in the water and wet her little feet."

"Why, Johnnie, that doesn't rhyme."

"I know it doesn't. The water wasn't deep enough."

THE ORIGINAL HOOLIGANS

The original Hooligans were a spirited Irish family of that name who made things lively in the neighbourhood of Southward about thirty years ago. Just as the aristocratic ruffians of the eighteenth century took a Red Indian name—Mohawks (spelled Mohecks)—so the Parisian street ruffian has borrowed the Red Indian name Apache.

The word boycott is only forty-four years old, for it was in 1880 that Captain Boycott, of Lough Mask House, Co. Mayo, was persecuted by the Irish Land League and much talked about in the papers.

Bunkum is really Buncombe, the name of a town in North Carolina. When a pompous orator had bored the House of Representatives at Washington with a lengthy speech, a friend remonstrated with him, and got the reply: "I was not speaking to the House, sir. I was speaking to Buncomb"—his constituency, of which he thought more than anything else.

The word Macadam commemorates John London Macadam, who died in 1836 after doing great work as a road improver in this country. The electrical term volts came from Volta, the discoverer of voltaic electricity; while the common work Macintosh shows how another Scot than Macadam contributed to our comfort by producing a rain-proof coat.

Sweet Clover

THE SWEETHEART OF THE NORTHWEST
THE CROP THAT WILL HELP YOU

By J. G. Haney, Agri. Exten. Dept., International Harvester Co.

SWEET CLOVER GAINS FAVOR

In recent years no other crop has come into prominence and favor so rapidly as has sweet clover. A few years ago little was said for, and much against sweet clover while at present there cannot be enough said in its favor; and strange to say, those who are saying things in favor of the crop are those who are growing and using it know what they are talking about.

Information regarding sweet clover, collected from every part of the Northwest, indicates that there is no other crop that will grow under such a wide range of climatic and soil conditions. Those who have become wise to the merits of the plant are no longer desirous of it as a weed, but are planting it for pasture and hay, and as a soil builder—as green manure.

ADVANTAGES OF SWEET CLOVER

1. It will grow under conditions not favorable to alfalfa or red clover—on heavy, wet, alkali or hard, dry, gumbo soils, and on poor run-down soils, especially if they contain lime or alkali.
2. It is as rich in feeding value as alfalfa, either for hay or pasture, and will not bloat cattle or sheep as alfalfa occasionally does.
3. Will produce two to four times as much growth in a season as alfalfa, clover or any of the grasses, and is eaten by all kinds of stock. (Stock sometimes refuse to eat it at first, but soon become accustomed to it.)

4. Being a biennial—grows only two years, like red clover—it fits well in the rotation, and is a great soil builder. One ton of dry sweet clover contains as much nitrogen and humus forming material—vegetable matter—as four tons of barnyard manure.

5. Being a legume, nitrogen is taken from the air, through the nodules on the roots, the same as alfalfa and other clover. The nitrogen fixing bacteria on sweet clover is the same as on alfalfa, but owing to softer roots, the sweet clover becomes inoculated more readily than alfalfa, and so may be used to repare land for alfalfa. The roots, being soft, are easily plowed up, and they soon rot and become part of the soil.

6. Produces seed under all conditions, and the seed is as easy to save as grain. It is possible to cut it with the binder and thresh it with the ordinary grain thresher. Not all of the seed will be hulled by the ordinary thresher, but it is not necessary that it should be.

7. Starts early in the spring, before any other grass, and grows until a hard freeze. A light frost will not injure it.

8. Can be sown with a nurse crop on well prepared land, and will furnish some pasture after the grain is cut. If sown alone on good land, it may make a crop of hay, or good pasture the first year, but it does not produce seed until the second year.

ALFALFA MAKES THE BEST HAY

Where alfalfa can be grown successfully it is not expected that sweet clover will replace this great crop. Sweet clover is at a disadvantage in this respect, that it must be reseeded, or allowed to reseed itself every other year. Also, sweet clover grows more rank and does not make as fine a quality of hay. It is as a pasture plant and for use in rotation to add fibre and fresh organic matter to the soil, and on land not suited to alfalfa that sweet clover will be found most valuable.

THE VARIETIES OF SWEET CLOVER

The biennial white-flowered is most common, and is usually recommended for all purposes. The yellow-flowered biennial is grown in some sections, and has the advantage of growing finer and closer to the ground, producing a finer quality of hay, making a good pasture, and reseeding more persistently. In the drier sections of the Northwest, the yellow-flowered apparently grows more successfully than the white, and we should recommend it for the drier sections of the Northwest. It matures earlier and escapes early frosts. There are two annual varieties, which are little grown. They must be seeded early in the spring. They produce seed and die the same season, the same as spring grain. The two former varieties are biennials—that is, they should be planted in early spring, and good growth is made but no seed is produced the first year. The second year, under favorable conditions, one crop of hay and a seed crop may be secured, or two or more hay crops. When seeded alone, early, on good ground, one or more hay crops may be cut the first year. When used in permanent pastures, sweet clover will usually reseed itself, but it is a good practise to sow a small amount of seed every other year or so, or as needed, to keep the pasture good.

There are selections being made from these different varieties and claims made that they are superior in various ways, such as being earlier, cold resistant, less bitter, more leafy, etc. There undoubtedly is merit in all these claims, and great improvement may be expected from careful selection and breeding. Regarding new and improved varieties of all kinds of crops, we feel that the public experimental stations should be depended on to obtain information as to the merits of these, and that the individual farmer cannot afford to experiment to any great extent along these lines.

SUCCESSFUL GROWERS OF SWEET CLOVER

While there are a great many who have grown sweet clover, only a few have taken the trouble to put their experience in writing. Among those who have written on this subject is P. M. Mattson, of New Rockford, N.D. His experience may be taken as typical of many experiences with this crop. He has grown it for a number of years and in a recent article gives the following experiences with 20 acres of this crop.

"In order to outline the results fairly, I feel it necessary to particularly mention the results as a hog pasture. We had two small hog pastures, containing 11-2 acres each, or 3 acres in all, that had been seeded down to oats and barley for several years previous, and hogged down; everything had been eaten to the ground—grain, straw and all. We disked these patches twice and seeded 15 pounds of hulled seed to the acre and left the pigs on it from the day it was seeded."

"In spite of the fact that some fifty large hogs and as many more pigs tramped over this ground, picking what young plants started to grow, they failed to destroy the roots, as it kept on growing all summer. I seeded 15 pounds to the acre on the balance, or 17 acres. Seven acres of this was seeded on alfalfa ground that was too thin to make a crop of value; on 2 acres I seeded barley as a nurse crop; 9 acres of the plot was on corn stubble. We disked it twice, and seeded as before. Two acres were spring plowed and packed with a Dunham packer. Both the corn stubble and spring plowing were seeded without a nurse crop."

On June 27th, we had this lot of 17 acres fenced in and turned the hogs on it, over 50 full grown and about a hundred pigs. The sweet clover was then 8 to 10 inches high. On July 8th, we concluded that the hogs could not eat it down fast enough and we cut all but the spring plowing and barley for hay. We gathered fourteen loads,

EDITORIAL COMMENT

One of the difficult problems for which the Alberta Government is trying to find a solution is that of railroad service to and from the Peace River country. The E. D. & B. C. railway is an incubus alike to the government and to the Alberta Taxpayer; though at the same time it is absolutely necessary to those who have settled in that part of the province.

We are given to understand that an offer has been made by the Canadian National Railways to acquire this road, provided that they are given a grant of land. Also that an offer from the Canadian Pacific will be forthcoming within a few days.

Albrea will be well advised to follow the example of the city of Glasgow, in her dealings with her own publicly owned services. The city of Glasgow, with a population as great as Alberta, is world famed for her successful operation of publicly owned services.

What is the secret of Glasgow's signal success in this all-important matter? Have all her ventures in publicly owned services been a success? The fact of the matter is that Glasgow has not always been successful with her ventures, but she has had the discretion to unload and enterprize she found not profitable. She faced the question fairly, she sold out for whatever she could get, and stopped further losses from that source.

Alberta must take the same drastic action. It may be disagreeable and temporarily unpopular. But is the only way to avoid further and more serious trouble. Alberta will be well advised to dispose of her railroad for the very best terms she can obtain from either of the two railroads.

Saskatchewan is to have an election June 2nd. Alberta will watch the results of this election with more than ordinary interest, because either this year or next the Alberta government will have to make appeal to the polls.

There will be largely a three cornered fight in Saskatchewan. The Liberals, who are now retiring and appealing for re-election have been successful in retaining power up to the present time. The Conservatives of Saskatchewan will make a good fight for the public vote. Whilst the third party will be the Farmers movement or Progressives.

What will be the result of the polling we are not going to forecast, though we observe that some of the local Liberals are confident that their party will be re-elected and again form the government. But we would not be surprised, in the event of a Progressive victory in Saskatchewan, in seeing an earlier election in Alberta.

We were pleased to receive a visit from one of our local teachers who made some verbal comments on our editorial of last week. He liked the editorial, but did not agree with all that we had said. He also requested us to go on with the subject. It's at all times a real pleasure to get criticism such as our friend offered, and we hereby express our hopes that he will commit his ideas to writing and offer them to us for publication. The subject is a large one, and too much consideration cannot be given to it. We have a whole lot more to say, and intend to refer again to this matter in a short time. Meanwhile we ask our readers to consider: "What is the purpose of public school education?" and "Are we spending our money to the best advantage?"

The insreasing number of husbands who leave for parts unknown and let their families shift for themselves is something that should command more attention by the authorities or by the organizations that work for better social and moral conditions in our land. There is scarcely a village, town or municipal district that is not dealing with one or a number of these cases where the family has been left destitute by the husband and father, and thrown upon the mercy of the public and nine times out of ten the ratepayers foot the bill. The governments are quite averse to spending money to bring these erring providers back to face the music, but that is just what should be done. Legislation providing for a public lashing upon his return should be enacted. This would soon put a stop to this growing menace and put fear into those who may have a notion of departing from their families. Since the government does not see fit to do this, here is a real job for a lot of well meaning people who cry to the high heavens for legislature to regulate what a man should eat and drink, but leave a vast field for social and moral uplift untouched—disagreeable as it were—but its there.—Viking news

W. L. A. MEETING

The members of the Westminster Ladies Auxiliary held a small, but enthusiastic, meeting at the home of Mrs. H. G. Folkins, on Thursday afternoon. They decided to hold a sale of home cooking and home made candy, and also to serve afternoon tea Saturday May 30th, commencing at two o'clock.

Save many hours of tiresome walking. Buy a harrow cart from I. E. Collette.

I was born in the silent forests far from the ports of men. I have watched the Red Man hunt his game by day and great animals fight to death by the aurora's pale glare. The woodman's axe, an icy stream, a merciless shrieking of wheels and knives: terrific heat and pressure, and I am a great white ribbon, spun into a roll, only to be thrown out again through the battering, thundering jaws of a printing press.

But in the hands of all I am now an inspiration, a clairvoyant, a historian. My sides are covered with magic, symbols of a gigantic significance. I am the voice of the nation: the light of the world. When I go forth I bear the decrees of the greatest brains, and threats of the strongest mob forces of my time.

I tell my story; a king topples from his throne, and millions of soldiers march gallantly to an unknown death. I sing their requiem and it is known to the uttermost parts of the earth. I weave the dreamer's thoughts into spans of steel across great torrents, and build spires of stone to shelter men's gods. I speak and continents are severed and worlds are cemented. I tell my tales of the prince and the pauper.

My anthems are of the free and the brave; and I chant the song of the wage slave in dusty noon; or I bring comfort to tired eyes and jaded minds by fevered midnight. I am feared by all men, yet wooed and courted like a fickle muse. Where men have gathered together I am. And until the last man has gone to the Great Beyond, I shall be. I am the papyrus of time. I am the newspaper.—The Cranbrook Courier, B. C.

POOR GERMINATION IN OATS

Attention of the Provincial Department of Agriculture has been drawn to the fact that considerable wheat and oats in northern parts of Alberta are showing poor germination. It is pointed out to farmers that no seed should be sown unless the germinating qualities are known. A pound sample of the seed should be sent to the Dominion Seed Branch, Calgary, for a germination and purity test. The test costs only 50 cents per sample.

STATES FOLLOW ALBERTA LEAD

Several States are following the lead of Alberta in adopting the latest to seek information is the State of Illinois, where it is hoped to work out some such system this year. Startled by a crow, which suddenly flew close up to team, John Murray's team made a sudden dash forward whilst he was unhitching the gang plow. John was knocked down, the wheel of the plow going over the leg he injured last year. Excepting for bruises and lameness, he escaped injury.

How is your stock of stationery? We do printing of letterheads, statements, envelopes etc. Take stock of your needs and we will be pleased to quote you prices on anything you may need in this line.

Bull Creek school is closed under quarantine owing to an outbreak of chicken-pox in the district.

Chauvin presented an animated scene last Saturday evening. The merry shouts of the players of basket ball in the school yard, mingled with those of the baseball boys on the adjacent sports grounds. Smokes of bonfires from the gardens and folks busy planting seeds and potatoes. Cars buzzing in and out of town, with a fair amount of business in the stores. And, as evening shadows fell, a rush of business at the ice cream parlor.

marketing legislation on their statute books.

When the Alberta egg and poultry pool starts to operate with sufficient volume of business and a large membership, it will have some right as to determining the grading of eggs and poultry, which is stated to be giving so much dissatisfaction at the present time throughout the province.

It is interesting in this connection to note that on June 1st, a new law goes into force in Oregon. All eggs must be branded when offered for sale. It provides for three classes; standard size, weighing 22 ounces to the dozen and up; medium size, weighing 19 to 22 ounces; and under size, weighing 19 ounces. Any egg showing an air shrinkage of over three-eighths of an inch cannot be marketed as a fresh egg. The law also requires that imported eggs must be marked with the name of the place where they originate.

MAY WORK IN THE APIARY

(Experimental Farms Note)

During the month of May, carefully watch the growth of each colony. Hives smaller than the ten-frame Jumbo or twelve-frame Langstroth are not large enough for really good queens. The spaces between the frames as soon as the bees are filling all and hive walls, another chamber should be given without a queen excluder; this not only enlarges the brood chamber, but is an aid in the prevention of swarming. The colonies are usually ready for this manipulation just prior to the early flow from dandelion and fruit bloom. During this early flow, it may be necessary to supply an extra super for the storage of nectar; do not force the bees to store any surplus in the brood chamber, as this reduces the space available for the queen, and is likely to excite the swarming impulse. It is also advisable at this time, to clip the wings of all mated queens, as this will help to prevent the escape of swarms later. In localities where there is little or no nectar available between the first and main flows, strong colonies must be watched for starvation, especially if the period of dearth be a long one.

Do not examine colonies on cold days. Avoid keeping colony too long for fear of chilling brood or encouraging robbing. Do not practise spreading the brood nest, as this may result in dead brood. Only examine colonies when there is some definite manipulation to perform.—C. B. Gooderham, Dominion Apiarist.

RIBSTONE TRAVELLERS MET ADVENTURES IN NORTH COUNTRY

Messrs E. Dell and G. Burton have recently returned from an auto trip to the country surrounding St. Paul de Metis. They are not favorably impressed with this land. On one occasion they got stuck in a mud-hole, and had to seek assistance. At the first place they reached only a Russian grandmother was at home. She could not speak English. Then they found a Russian who could speak a little English but had no team. With him they found another Russian who had a team but who could not speak English. All together they returned to the car. After the team had soaked their teeth in the slough for a long time they were hitched to the car and succeeded in drawing it out. Dell then asked "How much?" Immediately the Russian who spoke no English replied: "Three dollars!" Whilst on this trip they visited Cecil Burton who is teaching school a few miles from St. Paul, where there are only 5 English speaking pupils.

"The hogs continued to eat it but could not keep it down altogether. We fed them not to exceed a pound of barley per head per day. About the middle of July, we turned in 9 calves. They went to it as though they had been trained. Still the clover grew too fast, and we turned in 15 horses, among them 7 mares with colts."

About the first of August the hogs had increased to over 200. Still this 20 acre piece seemed to supply all the nourishment that they needed, excepting of course that we had to feed the hogs some barley, and continued to feed them all until the middle of September, when we removed most of the horses. About the first of October, we left only the weaned colts, calves and hogs and they continued to feed until freezing time. About the middle of October we fenced in 26 acres of corn for the hogs, but they still turned to the sweet clover for green feed, even went so far as to pull it up and eat it, roots and all."

"I will say in addition that I never saw stock do so well on any pasture in North Dakota. I have never raised as fine a bunch of calves during my thirty-five years experience here, and have never gained such a profit on hogs as I did on this 20 acre lot of white blossom sweet clover. I may add that I shall seed 50 acres of corn stubble to sweet clover this spring, for additional pasture, as I have 135 or more sows which will have pigs in the spring."

(The second article will discuss the growing of sweet clover)

FOURTH ANNUAL TOUR TO THE PACIFIC COAST

Special Train From Winnipeg
via Canadian National Railways Entertainment Provided for at Various Points of In-

PERSONALLY CONDUCTED

Personally conducted tours offer the best opportunity for familiarizing oneself with the country traversed. This applies to our own country as well as to the older settled countries of Europe. Canadian National Railways has, for many years, commencing immediately after the close of school for the summer holidays, conducted special parties to the Pacific Coast via Prince Rupert. The tour this year which will be the fourth will again commence at Winnipeg from which point a special train of modern sleeping car equipment, dining car and radio observation car will leave July 6th. After stopping at various places of interest, the train will arrive at Prince Rupert on July 11th. At this later point, the party will embark on a palatial steamship for a cruise of 550 miles through the famous "Inside Passage" to Vancouver. While the tour terminates at Vancouver, those who desire to make a trip to Victoria, may have their tickets read "Victoria" as their destination without any additional cost.

This tour is an outing that appeals strongly to teachers as well as to professional men, and business men and women.

The local agent of the Canadian National Railways will be pleased to give you full particulars of this tour, including the cost, choice of routes returning, etc.

62 BILLION TONS OF COAL IN ALBERTA

Sixty-two billion tons of coal half of this amount recoverable, lie beneath the surface of Alberta soil, according to Professor J. A. The commission was also told that $12,000,000 had been lost by the abandonment of coal mines during the last twenty years.

KEEPING TURKEYS

(Experimental Farms Note)

Turkey raising is not the difficult matter that many believe it to be, writes Mr. A. G. Taylor of the Poultry Division, Dominion Experimental Farms, who itemizes the essentials to success in this line of poultry keeping as follows: Well drained soil; free range, well-developed healthy, unrelated breeding stock; and palatable foods properly and regularly fed.

The birds are not confined to houses and for winter nights require only the shelter of a straw-barn or closed-in shed. Nor is the feeding an expensive matter. Turkeys, especially the Bronze which is our largest and most popular breed, are great foragers and gather their food from the fields. Altogether there is little labour required in keeping a flock; a small initial investment will provide a suitable start; and the market for dressed turkeys is good both at Thanksgiving and Christmas.

A bulletin written by Mr. Taylor entitled "Turkeys—Their Care and Management," (No. 46, New Series) is now in the press. In it are found a discussion of breeds; practical directions for successfully managing a flock; and notes on the prevention and cure of disease. Copies will be sent free on application to the Publications Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

operation without issuing any large amount of capital stock. To date only some sixteen thousand shares are outstanding. A contract has been made for the completion of the present well, for which payment will be made in stock and an interest in the balance of the leases held by the company. With the completion of this contract the company will have no more stock to sell and as production is obtained from any of their holdings their shareholders will be assured of a nice income on the small amount of capital outstanding.

Others Getting Ready

In addition to the above companies who are operating. The Phoenix, Mid-Canada, Marvel, Mutual of Vancouver, Edmonton Wainwright Oils, Calgary-Wainwright and several other companies have made locations and we hope will in the near future have started operations.
